West Denounces Latest Red Plan

Russians Turn Tables On Allies

GENEVA (AP) — The Western powers Monday denounced the Soviet Union's German plan as "totally unacceptable" and brought in a counterplan of their own. The Russians promptly rejected it.

As the eighth week of the Geneva foreign ministers' conference on Germany began, East and West were as deadlocked as ever.

It boiled down to this: The West insisted that German unification must be brought about by the Big Four powers.

The Soviet Union on its part insisted that reunification must be worked out by the Germans themselves.

These were positions that have been held for years. Andrew H. Berding, U.S. assistant secretary of state, summed up by saying the West had found "nothing encouraging" in what Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko had to say Monday.

It was a busy day for the ministers—Gromyko, Selwyn Lloyd of Britain, Maurice Couve de Murville of France, and Christian A. Herter of the United States. They met at private lunch for 2½ hours and then in a semipublic plenary session for three more hours.

Main Speaker
Herter was the main speaker Monday. He scorned as totally unacceptable Gromyko's demand for creation of a pan-German committee to draft plans for reunification and German peace treaty during an interim treaty over Berlin of 18 months or longer.

He said "the purpose of the Soviets in putting forward the proposal is all too clearly to perpetuate the partition of Germany."

As a counter he introduced a new Western plan, labeling it "a sensible and business-like way of continuing a common search for the road to reunification and a peace settlement with Germany."

The Western plan embodied these points:

1. The Geneva conference of foreign ministers would stay in business indefinitely "for the purpose of considering the German problem as a whole."

2. It would meet at agreed times and places to "consider questions relating to the extension and development of contacts between the two parts of Germany."

3. It also could "make special arrangements for the consideration of particular questions."

Gromyko replied that the Western plan appeared to bar direct negotiations between delegates of the two Germanys. Any such bar, he said, is unacceptable.

The Soviet minister said he was making preliminary comments. He indicated he would have more to say later.

The ministers will meet for luncheon at Gromyko's villa Tuesday and have set a plenary session for 3 p.m. Wednesday.

Lloyd will fly to Paris Tuesday night to consult with and report to the Council of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization on the course of the Big Four talks.

Geneva was full of reports Monday that U.S. Vice President Richard M. Nixon would come here on his way home from his Moscow trip early in August. Berding would not discuss this.

Youth Charged With Murder

QUAKER, Mo. (AP) — A shiftless, backwoods farm boy was charged with first degree murder Monday in the killing of a country grocer during a Saturday night beer-swilling spree. A girl also was slain, and the grocer's wife and daughter were wounded.

John Crump, 19, gave no reason for the slaying other than that he and a 14-year-old pal wanted a car and some money "so we could go out and have us a big time."

Wild Animal Farm Discovery

Girl Finds $25,000 Cash In Purse

A DELAWARE girl visiting Pocono Wild Animal Farm Wednesday, July 8, found a woman's straw beige pocketbook containing what was reported to be as much as $25,000.

A man that Charlotte Massey, 18, of Delmar, Del., could describe only as 65 to 75 years old claimed the money and gave her a $50 reward.

Miss Massey said she, her parents, her grandparents and her sister had just driven into the parking lot at the farm off Route 611 south of Stroudsburg when she saw the pocketbook lying on the ground.

She put it on the front seat of the car and went into the tame animal compound with her family. It wasn't until an hour later that she opened the pocketbook and discovered a pile of 10, 20 and 50 dollar bills wrapped in a canvas bank bag. She was not sure of the exact amount. The canvas bag was inside a paper bag and the paper bag in a plastic one.

"I was stunned," Miss Massey said over the phone last night. "I never had seen that much money before."

Her father, Harold E. Massey, told her he had just heard inside the animal farm that a man had lost his life savings. The elderly man then came forward and described the pocketbook and the money.

The man said his daughter, who had been taking care of the money for him, had put the pocketbook on the ground while she placed a baby carriage in a car. They both had driven off forgetting the pocketbook. The Masseys turned the money over to the man, Charlotte said she didn't know his name or where he lived.

When asked what she had done with her $50, she said she had put it in a bank, instead of using it to make a final payment on a new car. Her parents made the payment for her.

Although Charlotte had to return home for a summer job, her parents are still here at Pocono Pines where they have a trailer at the Stillwater Plateau development.

State GOP Halts Hopes Of Democrats

HARRISBURG (AP)—House Republicans Monday night smothered Democratic hopes to revive immediately a plan for a 4 per cent sales tax on a bipartisan basis.

Rep. Albert W. Johnson, GOP floor leader, said the Republican minority voted unanimously to refuse to sit down for further tax compromise conferences, adding:

"At this point, there are no votes for this (sales) tax program. Our position is that you (the Democrats) come up with a tax program on your own and then we will take a look at it in the Republican caucus."

A full-scale House debate on taxes wound up on a strained note that portended an indefinite continuation of the four-month deadlock in the Commonwealth's fiscal dilemma.

Floor Leader
Rep. Stephen McCann, Democratic floor leader, said there were no immediate plans to seek a tax solution.

"There will be a day when the tax problem must be resolved," he asserted. "Neither party can get any political mileage out of this tax deadlock."

The 14½-million-dollar sales tax package, never brought to a vote scheduled for last Wednesday, calls for increasing the rate from 3½ per cent to 4 per cent and expanding its coverage to include beer, liquor, automobile inspection sticker fees, soft drinks and laundry and dry cleaning services.

The program collapsed in a wild scene of confusion when 15 lawmakers in the 35-member Philadelphia Democratic delegation withheld their support of the program. Then 15 House Republicans, who had pledged to back the plan, withdrew their votes.

Rep. James J. Dougherty (R-Phila.), who arose to defend the Philadelphia stand, said many reasons have been advanced for the defeat of his delegation but that the real one was that the sales tax plan is obnoxious.

Describing himself as the "John Dillinger of the 1959 session," he told the House:

"It (the sales tax) was so obnoxious that there weren't enough votes for it. Let's put the taxes on people better able to pay."

Dougherty's own tax program is to double the 14-mill gross receipts levy on public utilities, increase the 6 per cent corporate net income tax to 10 per cent and remove tax exemptions enjoyed by mutual life insurance firms and savings banks.

The Dougherty program, estimated to yield 235 million dollars in the next two years, drew a "no comment" reply from McCann. Since it places the entire tax load on business, it is expected to get nowhere.

Khrushchev Quits Tour Of Sweden

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev, blaming an unfavorable atmosphere in Scandinavia, has called off his scheduled three-week August visit to four Nordic nations. The Soviet Premier apparently thought he was going to get a chilly reception.

In notes delivered to the Swedish, Danish and Norwegian embassies in Moscow Sunday night, the Soviet government lashed out at a host of Scandinavian politicians and editors for leading what was called a hostile "anti-Soviet campaign."

Khrushchev had planned to give his calls on his Scandinavian neighbors a folksy touch by bringing along his wife and two daughters. But he obviously hoped for political results, too.

Walter Lists Text Of Statement

WASHINGTON — Rep. Francis E. Walter yesterday released the text of a statement he will make today at his House Committee on Un-American Activities opens hearings on Communist training operations.

Walter, Eastern Democrat, is chairman of the committee. In his opening statement, Walter said "the most appalling fact of this generation is the failure of the free world to grasp the fundamental nature of communism."

Walter termed the movement not an economic system, not a political organism, not just military aggression.

"It is a dynamic system aimed at the destruction of all moral and spiritual values and of any society built on them," he said.

He said its basic pattern consists of "softening up its prey by deceitful propaganda, subversion and force."

The statement continued: "Many people wonder what makes a dedicated Communist. How are intelligent American citizens molded into such thoroughly committed revolutionaries that they will, as Lenin said, devote 'the whole of their lives' to the Communist conspiracy?"

The experience of this Committee compels the conclusion that this process is not accomplished overnight. A first step is often the subtle indoctrination of students by individual Communists who are employed as teachers in non-Communist educational institutions. Beyond this, the Communist conspiracy has two principal organized training operations.

"The first consists of schools, forums and courses designed to soften up and condition the students—whether they are actually members of the party or not and to act as a screening or selection program in which likely material is chosen for development in the second type of Communist training operation which is for hard core, disciplined conspirators."

"In these hearings which are beginning today, we will sample activities of individual Communists engaged in teaching in non-Communist institutions, as well as each of the two types of organized Communist training operations."

D&H Furloughs 150 Employees

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — The Delaware and Hudson Railroad laid off 155 employees Monday because of reduced shipments caused by the steel strike. Most of them were on vacation, however.

A spokesman for the railroad said the men at the road's Colton and Oneonta shops had been laid off "due to business conditions incident to the steel strike."

Nations Move Toward Ban On Tests

GENEVA (AP) — The United States and Britain took a step Monday toward a compromise with the Soviet Union on the banning of nuclear tests. They offered to permit control posts on Soviet territory to be staffed two-thirds by Communist-appointed personnel.

The offer, described by U.S. Ambassador James J. Wadsworth as a milestone in the eight-months old conference, won cautious praise from Soviet delegate Semion Tsarapkin. He said it was a step forward, but indicated it did not go far enough toward the Soviet position.

Wadsworth and the British delegate, Sir Michael Wright, told Tsarapkin the Western offer is a final move toward the original Soviet self-inspection proposals.

Tsarapkin's last position on this long-disputed issue was that all but four of the approximately 30 technicians and 20 auxiliary personnel on any nuclear ban control post in the United States, Britain or the Soviet Union should be citizens of the host country. The Western powers, on the other hand, maintained that all but four of the technicians should be foreigners. The dispute is one of the key issues of the negotiations, as the West is determined to resist efforts by the Soviet Union to police its own territory for test ban violations.

The Western offer was meaningful only with regard to control posts on Soviet territory. It would allow three times as many Communist-appointed technicians to participate in policing a test ban inside Russia as the West has ever found acceptable before.

The principle of the new Western position would reduce the number of Russian technicians in the United States and Britain. But this seemingly had little significance in the negotiations, since Tsarapkin has consistently shown a lack of interest in having any Russians at all man control posts in the West. The Soviet Union has always taken the stand that the whole control system demanded by the West is unnecessary, but agreed to negotiate such a system to obtain Western approval of a test ban.

The new Western proposal would divide the technical staff on control posts in the United States, Britain and Russia into three equal nationality groups:

One-third of the technicians nominated by the host country, one-third by the other two of the three powers, and one-third chosen on a fixed ratio among non-nuclear nations.

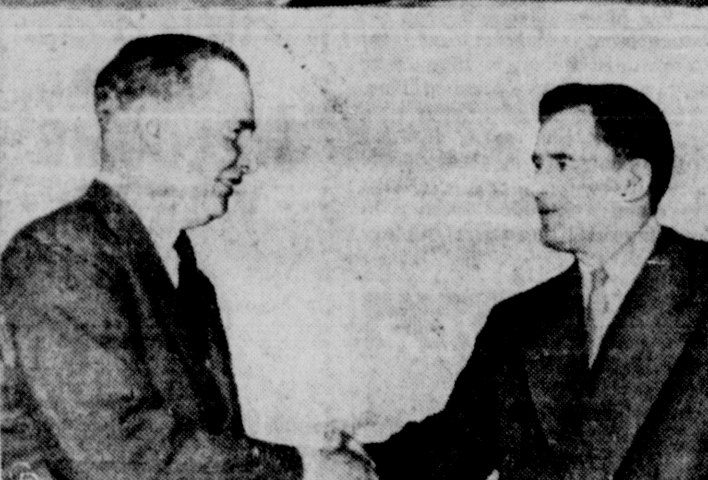

About 180 control posts are to be set up around the world, but the number in each country has not been determined.

Western spokesmen indicated the new proposal represents the absolute limit for the West.

Spain Devalues Currency Rate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Spain devalued its currency more than 42 percent Monday and got 375 million dollars in credits abroad to soften the jolt of this and other economic reform measures.

The new austerity program is aimed at halting inflation and getting the nation out of an economic tailspin. For years a nation with irritating controls over imports and currency, Spain hopes to emerge as a country with liberalized trade and a free exchange system.

United States To Launch First Atomic Merchant Ship

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — The United States launches its first atom-driven merchant ship today bringing closer to reality a dramatic example of President Eisenhower's "atoms-for-peace" policy.

The sleek Savannah will be about 70 per cent complete when it goes into the waters of the Delaware River to be formally christened by Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

It probably will be 1961 before it begins its triple duty as a full-pledged merchant vessel, a prototype for future A-ships, and a floating demonstration of the peaceful purposes to which nuclear power can be put.

W. D. Leahy Dies Of Brain Hemorrhage

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fleet Adm. William D. Leahy, 84, former chief of naval operations, diplomat, and wartime chief of staff to President Franklin D. Roosevelt, died Monday.

Leahy, who topped the seniority list of the five-star generals and admirals created toward the end of World War II, died of a brain hemorrhage at the Naval Medical Center in suburban Bethesda, Md.

President Eisenhower said the nation had lost an outstanding American, and "I have lost a close friend."

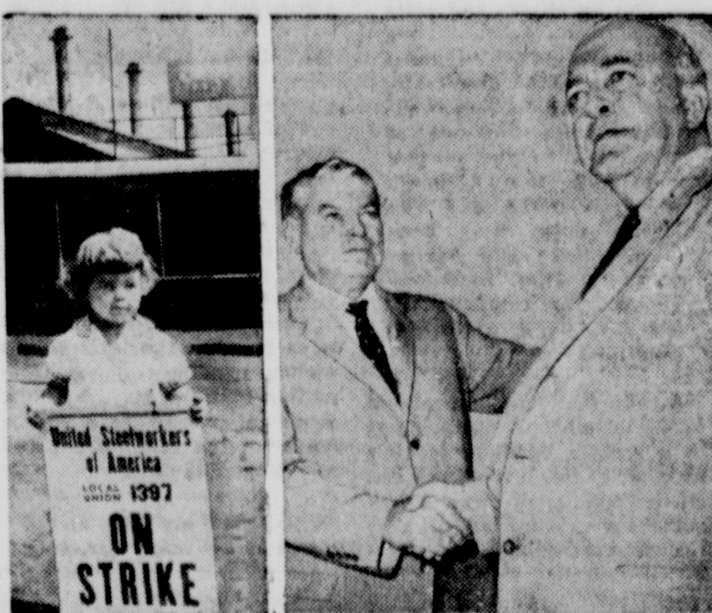

Eisenhower ordered the flag flown at half staff on all government buildings and naval vessels as a tribute to Leahy. The body will lie in repose at Washington National Cathedral from noon Wednesday until noon Thursday.

Formal burial services will be in Arlington National Cemetery Thursday afternoon.

Leahy was born in Hampton, Iowa, and went to school in Ashland, Wis. He graduated from the Naval Academy in time to take part in the Spanish-American War.

Thereafter he served actively in every conflict involving the United States. He retired from active Navy duty in 1933 and was sent to Unoccupied France to serve as U.S. ambassador during the early stages of World War II.

After the United States had entered the war Leahy was recalled to active duty and appointed personal military chief of staff to President Roosevelt.

One Entry Quits 'Miss Universe'

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — A shapely rehaired girl from Albuquerque, who defied her Catholic archbishop to enter the Miss Universe contest, abruptly quit Monday before it started.

Sue Simone Ingersoll, 22, whose dispute was over whether it is proper for a Catholic girl to wear a bathing suit in a public contest, indicated that had nothing to do with her withdrawal. Competition begins today and ends Friday.

Said Sue as she left the headquarters hotel to stay with friends: "I withdrew only because I didn't care to exchange one form of tyranny for another. I was held virtually a prisoner and incommunicado. I could no longer endure it."

Officials took this to be a knock at the rigid chaperone system. Contestants have chaperones with them at all times when they are not in their rooms. Their floor at the headquarters hotel is off limits to the public. Contestants' time is strictly budgeted and they have virtually no leisure.

But a contest official denied there was anything approaching tyranny. There have been no complaints from other girls, he said.

Miss Ingersoll's roommate, Miss Eileen Butler, representing Canada, said she was unaware of any tyranny.

"Why the contest officials bent over backwards trying to be nice to her," said Miss Canada.

Church Ruling

Archbishop Edwin V. Byrne of New Mexico had held it improper for girls in his diocese to wear bathing suits in a public contest. The Miss Universe selections in Albuquerque were made in private.

Pageant Director Oscar Melnhardt said: "Sue is withdrawing of her own free will. We very much regret her decision. On the other hand, it may be much better for all concerned, for any question having to do with an individual's belief or private conviction has no place in the pageant."

Miss Ingersoll, a hair stylist in a beauty parlor in her home town, issued a four-page statement when she arrived. In it she said: "For the good of my church and in the interest of understanding between all of us, I feel I have the serious responsibility to continue. I do not feel it is in any way immoral. Where the contest takes place, Catholics are allowed to enter."

But the monthly increases have been progressively smaller this spring. And the loss of earnings arising from the steel strike—especially if it is prolonged, with crippling effects on other industries—could reduce the gains in the next few months.

Small increases were shown in June in income from businesses and professions, dividends and interest.

Mediator Meets With Both Sides

NEW YORK (AP)—Separate peace talks with steel strike disputants apparently accomplished little Monday. The top federal mediator displayed no sign of optimism.

Joseph P. Finnegan, head of the Federal Mediation Service, met separately with the steel industry and the striking United Steelworkers in the first such talks in five days.

He told newsmen separate meetings would be arranged again for Tuesday. But when he was asked about the prospects of getting the two sides together in joint negotiations, Finnegan said: "We haven't planned that far ahead."

Further, the mediator stood on his statement of last week that he foresaw no easy or early solution to the dispute that has idled 500,000 steelworkers since midnight last Tuesday.

Related Industries
Some 40,000 employees in related industries have been laid off as the steel strike shut down nearly 90 per cent of the country's mills.

The American Iron and Steel Institute reported during the day that production had fallen last week to 1,097,000 tons, less than half of the previous week's figure and the lowest since the last steel strike in 1956.

The institute predicted that this week, the first full week of the strike, production would drop to about 374,000 net tons, or about 13.2 of capacity.

The steelworkers struck for a wage increase and improved fringe benefits. Prestrike wages averaged $3.10 an hour.

The industry resisted any wage boost would be inflationary and demanded the elimination of what it called wasteful work practices before it would discuss any contract improvements.

President Eisenhower was kept informed of the steel crisis through labor secretary James P. Mitchell, who was in close touch with Finnegan.

Finnegan first met separately with the disputants last Wednesday, a few hours after picket lines were thrown up around the mills. His progress at the time was so scant that he recessed further talks until today.

Position
Finnegan first tackled the industry's bargaining team Monday in a further exploration of their position. Afterwards, chief industry negotiator R. Conrad Cooper said: "We have nothing to say except that we had a two-hour meeting and we are standing by awaiting a further call from them (the mediators)."

En route to the conference, union president David J. McDonald told newsmen:

"From the standpoint of the union, the morale is very good. They are mad as hell about the treatment they have been getting from the companies and the attitude of the companies at negotiations."

Package Of Bills Introduced

HARRISBURG (AP) — A package of stopgap appropriation bills calling for nearly 236 million dollars to finance state operations, including the school subsidy and public assistance programs, until the end of November was submitted in the House Monday.

The bills, introduced by J. Dean Polen (D-Washington), are designed to finance the state's functions until the Legislature approves tax and budget programs for the next two years.

One bill would appropriate $205,400,000 to the general fund for salaries of state employees and for other obligations, including $123,700,000 in mandated subsidies due in October and November for third and fourth class school districts.

Issues—Union wants a wage increase and better fringe benefits. Industry balks on grounds higher labor costs would hike steel prices and inflate the United States economy. Industry also claims steelworkers are adequately paid. The union contends the industry can raise wages without raising steel prices.

Latest Glances At Steel Strike

By The Associated Press
IDLE—Some 500,000 striking United Steelworkers employed in the basic steel industry plus about 40,000 other persons employed by railroads, coal mines, shipping firms and other companies whose business depends on the steel industry, strike will be a week old at midnight Tuesday.

Negotiations—Federal Mediation Chief Joseph P. Finnegan shows no sign of optimism after meeting separately with industry and union negotiators in New York. Separate sessions are planned again Tuesday, but no joint talks are scheduled.

Washington Developments—President Eisenhower is given daily reports on situation by Labor Secretary James P. Mitchell.

Production and Wages Losses—Industry loses about 300,000 tons of ingot steel production daily or about 300 million dollars' worth of business weekly. Wage losses of strikers is about 70 million dollars a week.

Steelworkers—Union wants a wage increase and better fringe benefits. Industry balks on grounds higher labor costs would hike steel prices and inflate the United States economy. Industry also claims steelworkers are adequately paid. The union contends the industry can raise wages without raising steel prices.

Workmen Will Return To Jobs At College Campus Today

Negotiation To Be Held On Friday

WORKMEN will return to their jobs at the sites of the two buildings on the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College campus today, officials of the Building Trades Council announced last night.

The members of the council, along with Boyd Kline, Bloomsburg contractor, and A. J. Caruso, head of the General State Authority will meet on Friday to negotiate the differences between the parties since the men walked off the job and began picketing the sites last week.

Kline had refused to meet with the union officials until their pickets were removed from the site and the men returned to work.

When he was contacted last night, Kline said he would agree to meet with the union and Caruso on Friday.

Union officials said last night they had agreed to meet with Kline and Caruso, and their meeting with the two men was contingent after their going to work today.

The officials said their grievances as to the job would be aired at Friday's meeting.

Instrumental in bringing the union together with the contractor and Caruso was John Brislin, Monroe County Democratic chairman.

Meeting

Officials also said last night that the press and all other interested parties would be allowed to attend the meeting Friday.

Union officials said they had previously been unable to get Kline to sit down and talk over the various differences existing the start of the walkout that he as to the job.

Kline had announced from the start of the walkout that he would not meet with the union until the pickets were withdrawn from the job site.

The union men also said last night they wanted Kline to retract his statements concerning the pickets being a "nuisance."

Caruso told the Daily Record last night he would be glad to sit down with all concerned and try to mediate the differences if he could.

"The state needs the buildings," he said, "and we want all sides to be satisfied with the eventual outcome."

Khrushchev Quits Tour Of Sweden

the three Socialist-dominated governments for not curbing his bad press and the opposition plans for demonstrations. He also did not like the way they apologized for inviting him.

In reply, Danish Premier H. C. Hansen and Swedish Premier Tage Erlander said they had no power to gag the press in a free country.

Moscow called the change in plans a postponement and said the trip might be made in another year in a more "suitable" atmosphere.

But Swedish foreign ministry officials called it a cancellation. Any further invitations to the Soviet premier seemed unlikely. This was the second time in three years that a visit to Sweden had been set up for Khrushchev.

Erlander invited him early in 1956 but a popular outburst of revolution at suppression of the Hungarian revolt that fall caused the plans to fall through.

Khrushchev had planned to arrive in Stockholm harbor aboard the Soviet cruiser Sverdlovsk Aug. 10, and to make a stop in Finland at the end of the month after visits to the other two Scandinavian countries. A Soviet note to the Finns was different from the other three. It said that since the Scandinavian trip was off Khrushchev would "have no opportunity" to visit Finland.

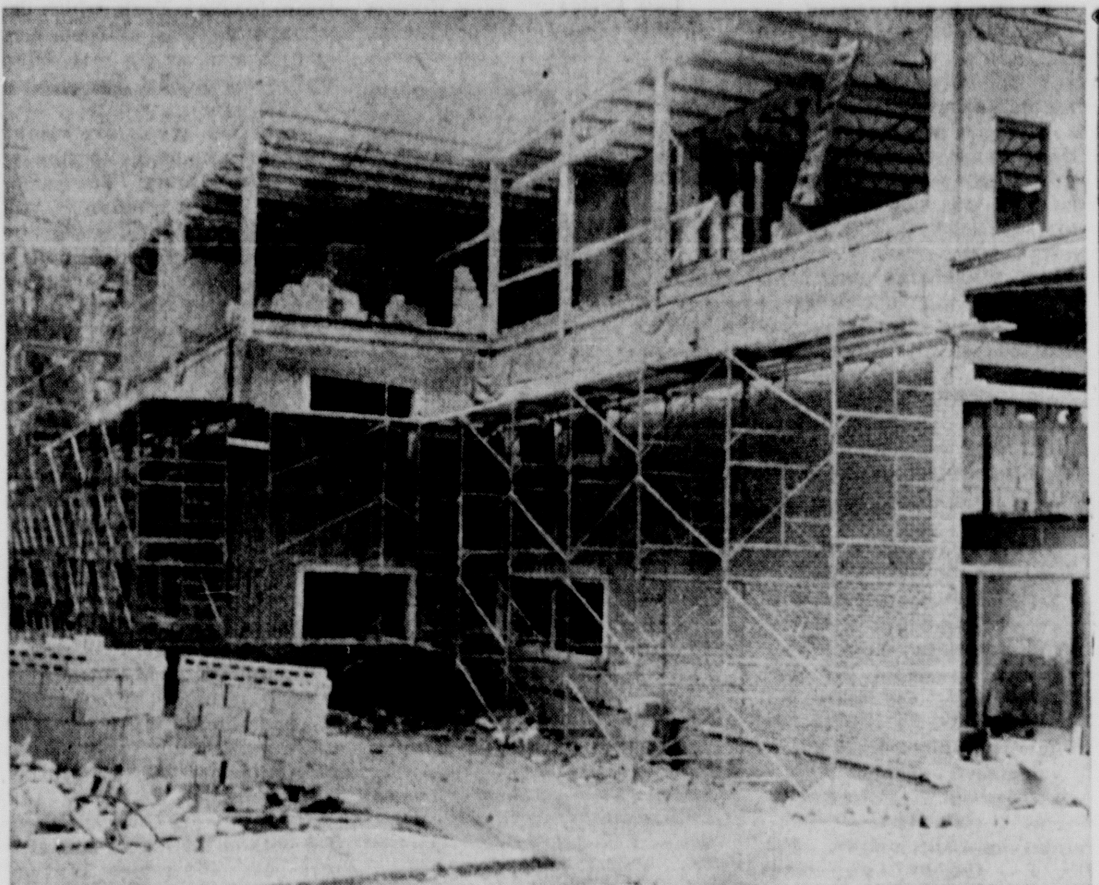

Moscow's reason for the change was greeted with skepticism in some places, including Washington, where it was noted that anti-Soviet propaganda did not prevent Khrushchev and Nikolai Bulganin, then Soviet premier, from making a trip to Britain in 1955.

There was an immediate assumption in some capitals that Khrushchev was clearing his calendar for an East-West summit meeting. Informed sources in Moscow said, however, the change had no connection with a conflict of dates for a summit meeting.

Other possibilities were that Khrushchev was putting heat on Scandinavia for some reason, perhaps to keep them out of a projected trading bloc of seven Western European nations. Ministers from the seven nations began meeting here Monday to consider a draft plan.

Unemployment Swindle Uncovered By Officials

A STROUDSBURG man asked his employer for time off on nine different occasions last Winter so he could go down to the local employment service office and collect unemployment compensation.

Office Manager John P. Dougherty said the man collecting two pay checks admitted his fraud last Friday before a Stroudsburg justice of the peace and paid a $30 fine on the stipulation he will make full restitution of the total $269 he collected from the government.

The case came to light last March when the local office made a spot check with the Stroudsburg employer. The employer said the man, whose name is being withheld, had been working for him during the period he was showing up for unemployment compensation.

A check of the employment office records showed the man had said he was either totally unemployed or only partially employed while receiving the government checks.

The local office notified the state assistant attorney general who signed a warrant for the Stroudsburg man's arrest.

At first he denied the charges, Dougherty related, but when confronted with the employment office records during the hearing, he confessed to the swindle.

The local office will be intensifying its crack-down on fraud," Dougherty said.

Saylorsburg Group Issues Road Protest

MONROE COUNTY Commissioners yesterday said they will write a letter to the State Department of Highways in behalf of five Saylorsburg property owners who will lose the use of a 130-acre field of farm land once the first section of the Penn-Can Highway is completed between Saylorsburg and Wind Gap.

Paul Kostenbader, Saylorsburg, speaking for his mother, Mrs. Sarah Kostenbader and the four other landowners, said that unless an access road promised by the department is built, the land located two miles south of Saylorsburg and east of the proposed highway will be of no use to the farmers.

Victor Ceszre, district engineer, has said he will do nothing about the situation, Kostenbader reported.

Kostenbader said the five owners sold right-of-way land to the state but that the limited access highway will create a barrier between them and their field.

Solve Problem

A road built from Cherry Valley to the top of the hill where the field is located will solve the problem, he told the commissioners.

County Solicitor Leo Achterman said he thought the landowners' problem was a personal one and that they will have to bring suit against the state for damages if there is no other solution.

Chief Clerk H. Ray Saunders reported that the commissioners' office has received the 1959 tax duplicate for Barrett, Elgert and Polk Townships from the chief county tax assessor's office. They follow those for Delaware Water Gap, Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg boroughs and Jackson Township.

The commissioners awarded a contract for the laying of flooring at the county home, Kellersville, to Owen M. Eastian, Inc., Trexlertown.

Bastian submitted the four low base bids for four different parts of the home, including the kitchen, dining room and hallway areas. The commissioners said they will give him all four jobs if they are satisfied with his work on the first one.

Pleasant Valley Jointure To Pay $900 An Acre To Two Landowners For School Land

BRODHEADSVILLE—Pleasant Valley Jointure will pay $900 an acre to two of the four landowners at the 50.8-acre site of the proposed new junior-senior high school, Supervising Principal John C. Mills said last night.

He did not have available figures showing how many acres are owned by Mr. and Mrs. A. Mark Kretzing and Mr. and Mrs. Henry D. Thompson.

No agreement has yet been reached with Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Bush and Mrs. Minnie Hill Kunkle.

Mills said he will present a comprehensive financial projection for the jointure at its regular board meeting tonight at Chestnuthill High School, Brodheadsville.

The projection, which will be sent to the State Department of Public Instruction, proves the capability of the jointure to finance a bond issue to build the new school.

Mills said Ira Haupt and Co., New York City, has already accepted the projection and agreed to undertake the financing of the $1,520,000 bond issue needed by the jointure to carry out its building program.

Hackettstown Resident Hurt In Wreck

COLUMBIA, N. J. — A 27-year old Hackettstown resident was reported in fair condition at Monroe County General Hospital, East Stroudsburg, last night where he is being treated for injuries sustained when his car collided with a bus.

Walter DePue, Knowlton Township constable, identified him as James Headdy of 104 Lafayette St., Hackettstown.

Sideswiped

He said Headdy's car and a Frank Martz Coach Co. bus operated by Alfred L. Stair, 35, Wapwallopen, Pa., sideswiped on Route 46 near the Log Cabin at 2:20 a.m. yesterday.

Headdy sustained a concussion, fractured left elbow and scalp cuts and bruises.

Two Bills Provide For Pensions

HARRISBURG (AP) — Two bills which would provide higher pension payments for policemen and firemen in cities of the second class were unanimously approved Monday night by the Senate.

One of the measures would increase the present minimum pension from $110 to $140. It provides that the $30-a-month increase will be considered as a cost-of-living increase and that it "shall be subject to revision by the General Assembly in the event of a decline or a rise in the cost of living."

Other Proposal

The other proposal would require cities of the second class A to pay as much money to police and firemen's pension funds as is necessary to pay the minimum pensions.

The bill specifies that whatever amount is needed shall be paid in addition to the 3 per cent of city taxes presently set aside for the funds.

The two proposals now go to the House for consideration.

Castro's Return To Post Of Prime Minister Unsolved

HAVANA (AP) — The organ of Fidel Castro's political movement said Monday the question of his return as prime minister "has not been solved despite inevitable pressure from all sectors for him to abandon his resignation."

This statement appeared in an editorial in the newspaper Revolution. The paper reported in its news columns a new roundup of anti-Castro suspects and said they had planned to start a panic in Havana so as to open the way for an invasion from abroad.

No Hint

Revolution gave no hint of Castro's whereabouts since he quit as prime minister Friday and forced out President Manuel Urrutia in favor of Dr. Osvaldo Dorticos Torrado.

Dorticos said he still regards Castro as prime minister. But the government rocked along without making any important decisions until Castro's position vited to meet Dorticos at a Foreign Ministry reception today.

There seems no doubt that Castro will continue as the principal power in Cuba. Some speculate the bearded revolutionary may not take back the prime ministry but will pick a successor to follow his policies while he concentrates on his pet agrarian reform program.

Castro has called for half a million Cubans to come to Havana and demonstrate their support for the program. Several thousand peasants already have arrived, and more are streaming into his crowded city of 1,200,000.

Payments Approved

HARRISBURG (AP) — Aud. Gen. Charles C. Smith Monday approved payment of $17,352,836 in overdue subsidies for first, second and third class school districts.

Costly Precedent

In the view of Senator Byrd, who is certainly a top authority on the complex subject of government financing and spending, "nothing could be more fiscally irresponsible" at this time than an amendment which a Senate committee has tacked on to the pending foreign aid bill.

The effect of this amendment, if it becomes law, will be to by-pass the Appropriations Committee of Congress, and to obtain huge sums of foreign aid money by going through the "back door" to the Treasury. In other words, it would be entirely outside the normal appropriations process of the government.

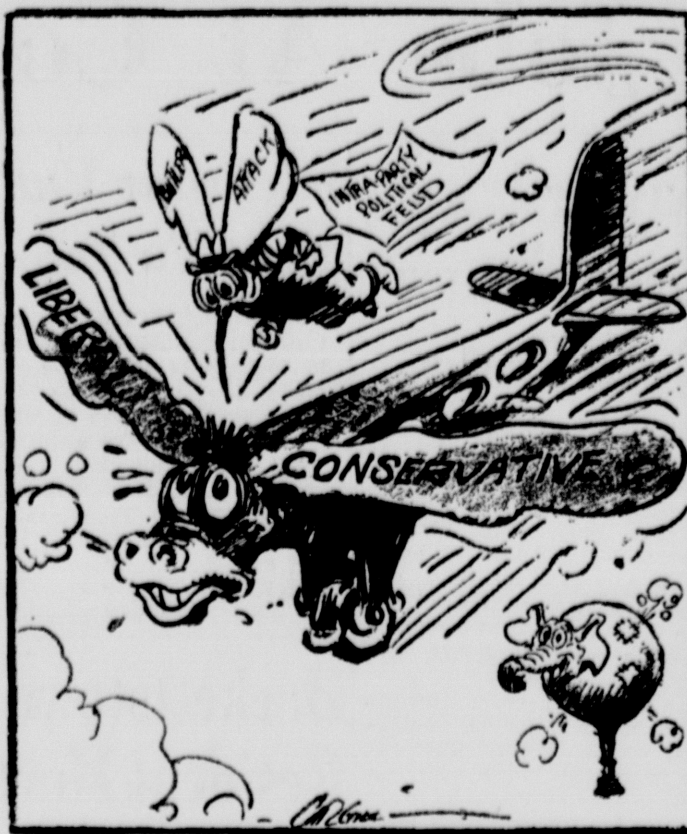

In Senator Byrd's words: "... the proposal would directly increase the already astronomical federal debt of this country by $5 billion, at the rate of $1 billion a year for 5 years, to make foreign loans which 'do not qualify' for financing elsewhere."

The big issue here is not whether any particular foreign aid proposal is good or bad, or whether it should be approved or disapproved.

The issue is whether—at a time when the President has found it necessary to ask for lifting the ceiling on an already unbelievably high federal debt — Congress is to irresponsibly abandon its duty of managing federal spending.

This "back-door" precedent could pave the way to the kind and degree of inflation that would totally destroy the value of the dollar.

Wing Trouble

George Sokolsky Says...

Gov. Williams Vs. Kozlov

The documentation of the discussion between Gov. Williams and Frol Kozlov is really exciting.

The Governor spoke up. He had witnesses who knew both Russian and English. Dr. Alfred Meyer of Michigan State University, and Dr. Horace Dewey of the University of Michigan.

Furthermore, Governor Williams denies that he sought the interview. Kozlov came to see the governor at the instance of Walker P. Cislak, president of the Detroit Edison Co.

In a preliminary statement addressed to Kozlov, Williams said: "... My presence here certainly does not indicate approval of the policies of the Soviet Union."

There are some who question whether governors and mayors should talk to "distinguished" visitors in such language. Must a man stultify himself, betray his conscience just because somebody in the State Department or on a VIP Visitors Committee wants him to?

Gov. Williams presented Frol Kozlov with a number of questions written in Russian. The conversation went along smoothly until question 3 was asked. This is question 3:

"The Soviet Union has often spoken of the right of peoples everywhere to self-determination. When can the peoples of Central and Eastern Europe, now under Soviet domination, anticipate the opportunity to choose independence under free and secret elections?"

This is a crucial question for Russia and Europe. It is also crucial in Michigan which contains an enormous population of Americans of Eastern European descent, with an especially large Polish population. The record shows:

"Mr. Kozlov began by saying that the question had been put wrongly because, in his opinion, the USSR was not preventing Eastern Europe from freely determining its own fate."

"In Rumania, he said, the USSR has no troops, yet Communism has grown stronger. In Poland and Hungary there are troops, but they are there because of treaty obligations."

"There have been free elections in all these countries. If in these or some of these elections only one party was on the ballot, well, that was because the people wanted it."

"The 'olive branch' possibility of an early-in-the-session get-together between the two politically warring factions as referred to earlier by the inexperienced on Capitol Hill, quite obviously now has been ground into legislative dust. It was never destined to be otherwise in the first place."

But in all the cracker barrel palaver that has taken place on the deadlocked fiscal front to date, the stand-out point revolves around the fact that the toughest hurdle of all — the anti-Administration-controlled GOP Senate — has yet to be jumped even after a fiscal horse can be found by Democratic Administration leaders to clamber over their own Democratic House of Representatives.

One hurdle at a time is the stock strategy cry on Capitol Hill — but at this rate without the first hurdle cleared, lawmakers are headed in the direction of another 1955-56 legislative session which saw that spectacle dragged out for 17 months.

Where does Pennsylvania go from here? At this point it's a tough question to answer. The House is one enigma — the Senate quite another.

Who's kidding whom? Kozlov must have thought he was talking to businessmen who saw pots of dollars at the end of a rainbow. No elections have ever been held in Hungary or Poland — not what we call elections, and we have the right to use words as we understand them and not as we are ordered to understand them by Russians.

The word, election, means to choose. If only one name appears on a ballot, what choice is there?

Continuing the record: "The Governor said the question was by no means put incorrectly, because there has not been real self-determination. In Germany, for instance, the uprising of June 1953 showed that the Soviet rule was not desired, that the East German government was not a government of the people's choosing."

"In Poland there has been repression of the peasantry, of students, and others. Poland is a Catholic country; the church plays a profoundly important role in the lives of the people; (the Governor pointed out that as a non-Catholic, he spoke with a certain detachment about this); but yet the Catholic Church in Poland does not enjoy the kind of freedom it would have if it were a free country."

"In Hungary, Soviet troops marched in after pulling out in October 1956, proving that the government there is built on military force. The people of Michigan feel strongly about the people in the Baltic States."

"... the discussion bogged down, with Mr. Kozlov and the Governor repeating their statements. Both accused each other of voicing propaganda."

"The Governor pointed out that Americans listening to Mr. Kozlov's exposition of this problem would not believe a word of it. To support his contention, he pointed out that in the 1953 uprising it had been Germans who threw cobblestones at the tanks and Soviet troops who manned the tanks."

"Voices were not raised, but it was obvious that the two partners in the conversation were determined to stick to their guns. The Soviet Ambassador (Menshikov) seemed to lose his temper and his patience and said, in English, 'You are talking nonsense, Governor.'"

"He said that what happened in Germany was not revolution, but counter-revolution."

Somebody needed to tell Frol Kozlov that there are millions of Americans who cannot and will not forget that the Soviet empire is being built by mass murder, by genocide."

These are the truest words I have ever heard. My daughter is 12 and she knows everything. She has no respect for anyone. She is a pretty girl but has the ugliest disposition I ever saw for a girl her age.

Jim Riley Says:

Now Is The Time To Protest

Last Friday morning Monroe County received the good news that the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western Railroad plan to discontinue two trains running between Hoboken and Scranton has been delayed for at least four months.

The delay was ordered to give the Interstate Commerce Commission added time to investigate the plan.

The original discontinuance announcement had been listed for Monday, July 27.

Friday's announcement of a four-months delay was good news indeed — but it was only temporary.

Now is the time for everyone interested in maintaining these two trains to swing into action with protests to the DL&W, ICC and to representatives and senators in both Washington and Harrisburg.

The two trains attracting all this attention are an eastbound train, for New York, which departs from East Stroudsburg at 8:45 a.m., and a westbound train leaving East Stroudsburg at 5:56 p.m.

These two trains are among the most important to stop at East Stroudsburg. The economy of both Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg will be shaken if the railroad plan is approved when the hearing takes place in November.

Now is the time for the Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce, the Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg councils and business associations, Pocono Mountains Industries, Pocono Mountains Vacation Bureau and other interested parties to lodge protests.

It may seem like only two trains right now, but this is just the beginning. If we the taxpayers of the United States allow the railroads to continue to take trains out of movement at the slightest urge, the tracks will become rusty from inactivity and the ties will rot away.

A community or communities without railroads will also turn rusty and rotten from inactivity.

We must act immediately to preserve the running of both trains. It is important to all of Monroe County. These trains carry everything from mail to passengers.

It has long been the practice of businessmen in Monroe County to take the morning train into Hoboken and return on the late afternoon train.

These two trains have long benefited East Stroudsburg, Stroudsburg and the remainder of Monroe County.

These trains have an influence on our economy and must be retained.

Some people have maintained an attitude of, "I don't care." They feel the railroad will call off the trains regardless of what comes of our protest.

I've watched people lose fights because they didn't try and there's never been a winner who didn't pour his very body and soul into an argument.

Now is the time to act. Protest and protests strongly. Prove to the DL&W and the ICC that we must have both trains stopping at East Stroudsburg.

Don't hesitate—protest now.

The Allen-Scott Report

Brown To Axe Ziffren

Washington—Chairman Paul Butler's closest ally in the Democratic National Committee is being axed.

While Butler's steadfastly continues to radiate confidence that he will ride out the angry storm against him, his ardent supporter, Paul Ziffren, has gotten the word he is definitely on the way out as California's National Committeeman.

This blunt notice has been served on him by Gov. Edmund (Pat) Brown.

Brown is firmly determined to designate his State's next Democratic National Committeeman, and it positively will not be Butler's great good friend Ziffren.

It might be Brown himself, but that depends on future events.

Ziffren is playing for time. Fully aware that he can't buck his powerful and popular governor, Ziffren is trying to stave off being replaced until after the presidential convention in Los Angeles next July.

He is proposing to "retire" as National Committeeman if allowed to hold on to the job until the convention is over.

Ziffren has offered to put this in writing in a letter to Brown.

In California, national committeemen are selected by the convention delegates shortly after their own election in the June primary. That means Ziffren will be displaced before the convention—a bitter fate he is frantically seeking to avert for a number of reasons.

Foremost among them are the leading role he played in bringing the convention to Los Angeles and his extreme eagerness to have an equally important hand in naming the 1960 slate, in the hope this will bring him bigger and better things.

For publication, Ziffren says he still favors two-time loser Adlai Stevenson. But he is also dropping private hints that he thinks well of Senator John Kennedy, who in several recent California polls has topped even Governor Brown as a presidential prospect.

Whether Ziffren can retain his cherished Committeeship through the convention remains to be seen. But whatever happens on that, it is now certain he will not succeed himself.

Governor Brown has settled that — and not Ziffren's close friend, National Chairman Butler.

Politically — Four of California's Democratic representatives — Harry Sheppard, Cecil King, John Moss and Clet Hollifield — sharply criticized National Chairman Butler at a private meeting of the state's congressional delegation. They proposed sending a joint letter to Butler denouncing his blasts at the party's leaders. But this was opposed by Representatives George Miller, Clement Miller, Harlan Hagen and George Kasem. As a result, in the end nothing was done.

That nationwide series of dinners for former President Truman's 75th birthday wound up in the red. The Democratic National Committee has had to make up a $15,000 deficit for the closed-circuit TV telecasts and other heavy expenses.

For a change, National Chairman Butler is evincing interest in the Republicans. He is polling some 1,500 state and local Democratic leaders on whom they consider the strongest GOP presidential candidate on what the principal issues will be in next year's campaign.

New York's Democratic congressional delegation is holding a series of private dinners to size up presidential aspirants. So far the group has had as guests Senators Lyndon Johnson, Tex., Stuart Symington, Mo., and John Kennedy, Mass.

During the discussions they were told Mayor Robert Wagner intends to have a lot to say about the New York delegation to the Los Angeles convention. Pointed out one New York representative, "Wagner now has more patronage than any other Democrat in the state."

Gov. Edmund Brown will definitely be the "favorite son" candidate from California, but that is as far as his ambitions go for the present. This was the message given party leaders in Washington and New York by Fred Dutton, top assistant to Brown. Dutton gave these significant assurances during a recent unpublished trip.

Senator Hubert Humphrey, Minn., following his latest visit to California, is jubilantly saying, "Next to my home state, I believe I'm strongest in California." Humphrey asserts he has no intention of entering California's presidential primary if Brown is the "favorite son" candidate. But adds Humphrey, "If Kennedy or anyone else decides to go into California, I will do so, too."

The Japanese people are very nice. For instance I had a ride on the subway and an old man offered me his seat (refused of course). In the department store they have girls by the escalators at each floor thanking you for taking them. I spent a lot of time riding the escalators. I gambled 120 yen on the pachinko machines and it took me an hour and a half to do it. Won as much as I lost in food and gave it all to Hinkley's cook. (Ed. Most girls at the Air base are called hawkeyes because they wear horn rim glasses. You often hear the call — "Hawkeye at 12 o'clock." (A girl straight ahead.)

Next week I'll tour more of Tokyo and some of the Southern cities.

THE JAPANESE PEOPLE ARE VERY NICE.

For a change, National Chairman Butler is evincing interest in the Republicans. He is polling some 1,500 state and

The traffic here is terrible and between two and three thousand people are killed each year in traffic accidents. The taxi drivers, especially, drive at a mad pace.

In Tokyo, there are about a million bikes, and while walking the streets I was amazed by the boys balancing big loads of goods on their bikes.

The stores contain huge amounts of merchandise but they look very neat. There are many large department stores in Tokyo and you can go broke saving money.

To celebrate July 4, I went to a Czechoslovakian state circus. It was good, but once you go to Madison Square Garden you expect too much of a circus.

The next day I ate at the famous restaurant, Chin-san-so, and had Mongolian food cooked right smack in the middle of the table. I also had my first real try at chop-sticks. When you are shown the right way to use them it is not hard to master.

THE JAPANESE PEOPLE ARE VERY NICE.

Opinions Of Other Editors

Labor Has Mind Of Own

Recent general elections have established well that labor union members tend to follow their own dictates in politics.

It shouldn't have to be stated that they are just like anybody else in this country—with the same range of problems, the same broad interests. They think of themselves as whole men, not just union members.

They wear their union buttons proudly, but not as shields of isolation from the rest of American society.

Analysis shows that from 35 to 40 per cent of the nation's union members voted for President Eisenhower in 1952 and 1966. They did this against the advice of most of their leaders. They made up their own minds, on the basis of what they read and saw of the candidates and the issues.

These millions of workers can hardly be flattered at the estimate recently put upon them by Harold Hanover, president of the New York State AFL-CIO. His words on the matter:

"Where union members in any sizable proportion go contrary to labor's program, certainly it is because they do not know or don't understand the issues."

The Pennsylvania Story

Uncertain Tax Course

By Mason Denison
Harrisburg — Where does Pennsylvania go from here on the tax front?

No one seems to know with any degree of certainty.

The smothering under of the Lawrence Administration's tax program in recent weeks and the abortive slowdown handed the proposal in the House of Representatives last week to increase the sales tax from 3 1/2 to 4 percent has left legislative leaders on both sides of the aisle cold.

The somewhat strong and mixed emotion evidenced in this column the other day by House GOP Minority Leader Albert W. Johnson perhaps provides an insight into the feelings of the GOP anti-Administration camp in the House.

"We were asked to provide 15 votes from our side to help Democratic Administration leaders pass the four percent sales tax bill," Johnson remarked dryly.

"We found the votes — but not by caucus action — and were ready to roll when they blew it up in our faces. Needless to say our (GOP) caucus was boiling mad over the turn of events."

Administration Democrats in the House were unable to provide the votes they had anticipated from their own side when the large Philadelphia delegation split down the middle.

Republican anti-Administration leaders themselves are fed up with what they refer to as "the dickering rat-race" on the part of Democratic members who control the lower chamber by a vote of 108-102 — with 106 votes needed to pass legislation.

Snapped one irate GOP leader:

"They're in control of the House and the Governor's Office. If they can't even beat through a program with their own controlling members, why should we Republicans who are in the minority have to provide them with an assist — and then be blamed for everything? We went out of our way last week — and look what happened!"

In the final analysis of course there is no alternative other than to find the answer. The mid-June and mid-July adjournment dates once upon a time referred to by new-on-the-scene Administration aides, have come and gone — and the impasse remains as deadly as ever.

The "olive branch" possibility of an early-in-the-session get-together between the two politically warring factions as referred to earlier by the inexperienced on Capitol Hill, quite obviously now has been ground into legislative dust. It was never destined to be otherwise in the first place.

But in all the cracker barrel palaver that has taken place on the deadlocked fiscal front to date, the stand-out point revolves around the fact that the toughest hurdle of all — the anti-Administration-controlled GOP Senate — has yet to be jumped even after a fiscal horse can be found by Democratic Administration leaders to clamber over their own Democratic House of Representatives.

One hurdle at a time is the stock strategy cry on Capitol Hill — but at this rate without the first hurdle cleared, lawmakers are headed in the direction of another 1955-56 legislative session which saw that spectacle dragged out for 17 months.

Try and Stop Me

—by Bennett Cerf

Timid Little Woman from Des Moines whenever she cheeks into a strange hotel, always locates the fire escape the moment the bellboy has deposited the bags in her room. One day she couldn't find any such exit, and when she had reached the last door at the end of the hall, jerked it open to see where it led. There, majestically seated in the bathtub was a red-faced Englishman with a walrus mustache.

"Pardon me!" exclaimed the timid little woman, flustered beyond belief. "I'm trying to find the fire escape."

She had gotten back as far as the door to her town room, when the Englishman, dripping wet and with a towel ineffectively draped around his middle, came padding up behind her. "Where," he gasped, "where is the fire?"

CUTIES

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

People who have an inordinate number of accidents are termed accident-prone; something in their subconscious makes them want to have accidents. By now I'm wondering what it is in my subconscious that gets me into illogical and/or ridiculous situations.

It is not logical to be sitting in a Tibetan monastery garden with cerulean blue bird-houses and stone elephants in a tangle of ivy in the first place—not on a fashion week in New York in the first place. But to be sitting there discussing the importance of zoning with a representative of the Staten Island Chamber of Commerce and vice president of its Historical Society borders on the schizophrenic.

But that's what happened. In a delightful change-of-pace outing, the Textile Industries took the fashion editors for a day on Staten Island with a visit to an authentic Tibetan monastery, perched on a hill and as peaceful and seeming as remote from New York as if it were still in Tibet.

However Staten Island, last refuge of primeval woods, the farm and the rural within the boundaries of New York City, faces much the same problems we do. We've got our Shortways and they've got their bridge from New York a-bowling. I was interested in knowing what the C of C had done about the coming invasion.

They've done a lot. They've had a master plan for ten years with land reserved for parks, playgrounds and camping areas. They have zoning and their historical society has bought up the colonial buildings still standing and, on a Rockefeller grant, are going to reconstruct Richmond Town. They're the first of the five N. Y. boroughs to begin planning before things got so congested they had to tear down. I wish we were as well prepared for the ravaging hordes.

With that long-winded explanation, the situation makes a little sense. But no amount of explanation can make sense of an accident on the same day. For six of our seven days, we had been carrying things: press releases, pictures, notes, pencils, and the favors we found at our places each meal-time.

On Saturday, for the visit to the Design Center (where incidentally one of the exhibitors is our own Design Techniques) and the trip to Staten Island, I traveled light. I even left my pocketbook in the care of a fellow editor and went to the powder room empty handed for the first time in a week.

On my meandering return journey, examining felt wallpaper and lamps made out of helmets as I went, I suddenly found myself staring at what I was holding high in my right hand. Now it's embarrassing enough to be caught in the middle of a busy aisle holding a roll of unboxed white toilet paper, but even more embarrassing to return it to a powder room full of irate women who were wondering what had become of it.

As I say I am always finding myself in abnormal situations, and have a sneaking suspicion that it might be because I'm not really a normal person at all.

Couture Fashion Portents Can Lengthen Style-Life Of Women's Wardrobes

By Bobby Westbrook

Relax, girls. You can wear last year's wardrobe (as if you wouldn't anyway) but you can wear it without feeling dowdy. As a matter of fact, you can probably drag out those suits with the long jackets you hung in the back of the closet a couple of years ago. And if you've got any big fur collars that the moth haven't been in, slather them on something. Tell your husband to relax, too.—He will like the styles on you. They are pretty, lady-like and elegant. He will also be relieved to know that it won't cost anywhere from $300 to $1,000 to buy your haute couture. The innovations of the couture group of designers are translated into mass-produced copies so fast that they'll be in Monroe County stores this Fall. In fact some of them have already arrived.

One reason why last winter's clothes are still in style is because two major areas remain the same: the waistline and the new trends a-come and if you watch for them in the new things you buy this Fall, you may prolong the style-life of your outfit for years.

Summing up those new trends: (1) The top looks wider. Big collars and capes, shoulders that look wider but still are not padded, longer sleeves, either wide and loose like paper doll sleeves or full puffed and bracelet length or shorter.

(2) Suit jackets are longer. They were shown in all lengths from waist to thigh to three-quarter coats, but the longer ones look newer. The tunic too, is in for a big revival.

(3) The mannish look. The designers don't like the word, but the new, firmer textured fabrics lend themselves to fine tailoring, and they are tailored. Of course it's tailoring with a difference. For instance, they may use men's wear flannel for a suit, but they use the jacket with a man's jacket. They may make an evening coat like an old raincoat, but they make it in a 24-carat gold lame brocade. Take off the jacket of one of their tailored suits, and you find a dress with a decollete neckline and a bodice of lace or satin or warp printed silk, suitable for dinner and dancing.

(4) The mannish hat. Bowlers, fedoras, slouch hats, over-seas caps, borrow their shapes from the men but they're made of fur, of satin, of feathers.

(5) The costume look is an important one. Everything comes with matching coat, jacket, or cape.

(6) Fur! Not since the days of Greta Garbo has there been such a lavish use of fur to make women look precious and pampered. Carrying just the pampered look is the luxury furrier's brocade bustle! Out all over, silk satin glowing after dark and velvets and laces, too.

(7) Brown and its related shades is having its biggest revival in 15 years. New are the neutrals, the so-called "no color" which may range from taupe to cream to taupe.

Your "Good" Dress All of these features have already been incorporated in many mass-produced clothes. Some of them selling for less than $25. However, the clothes shown at the Variety Group luncheon were in the $30 to $100 price range. That is a range where a lot of people buy their "good" dresses. As evidence, five of the dresses shown by Suzy Perette have already been ordered 10,000 times or more.

Others in the Variety Group also catered to the budget-minded as well as women with special problems. Mam'selle, for instance, produces career girl clothes and produces them in sizes small enough that the small woman (size 5 or 7) can buy sophistication as well as fit. Pauline Dtan and her partner Gurselle do the same for the "stylish stout" in reverse—adapt fashion detail so that it looks well as the larger, half-size figure.

Helen Lee's children's fashions followed their elders but children have no problems except maybe how to button those French pinafores in the back.

The afternoon showings returned to the couture designers with Junior Sophisticates living up to their name. Estevez could have outfitted the "Dragon Lady" in his frankly sexy clothes, many of them with necklines slashed to the waist. Rudolph, showing for the first time, did it well, if not sensationally.

Shoppers By Social Not so social, who entertained in his converted Edwardian Mansion. Fashion editors saw lots of beautiful fabric. They also saw such extravaganzas as evening "chaps" (that's what he called them although unlike the cowboy variety they did have seats in them) of grey silk taffeta with a band of gray fox fur all the way down each side. His "wicket" sleeve stood up like a leg-of-mutton sleeve, and his beehive coat shape looked swollen. But watch him. He may be prophetic.

One of the most prophetic signs to me came in the showing of Ritter Bros. furs at the champagne breakfast at the Plaza which closed the formal showings. He had put deep here in all of his "one of a kind" costume coats.

Those coats included a yellow poplin rain coat with nutria lining, and a reversible coat with fur on both sides. After that the fashion press needed their nice long day in the country, Staten Island country, before coming home to face their readers.

The Wyckoff Shopper

Standing on my desk against the wall, as I write, is a tray honoring my native state. It reminds me of the song, "Pennsylvania my native state, to you I give my devotion," for whoever designed the tray has shown a certain amount of devotion to this little corner of the world that is ours . . . and also a very pleasing artistic skill and color sense. I wish, however, that the tray had been larger, so that more of the scenes from Pennsylvania's landmarks and industry might have been included.

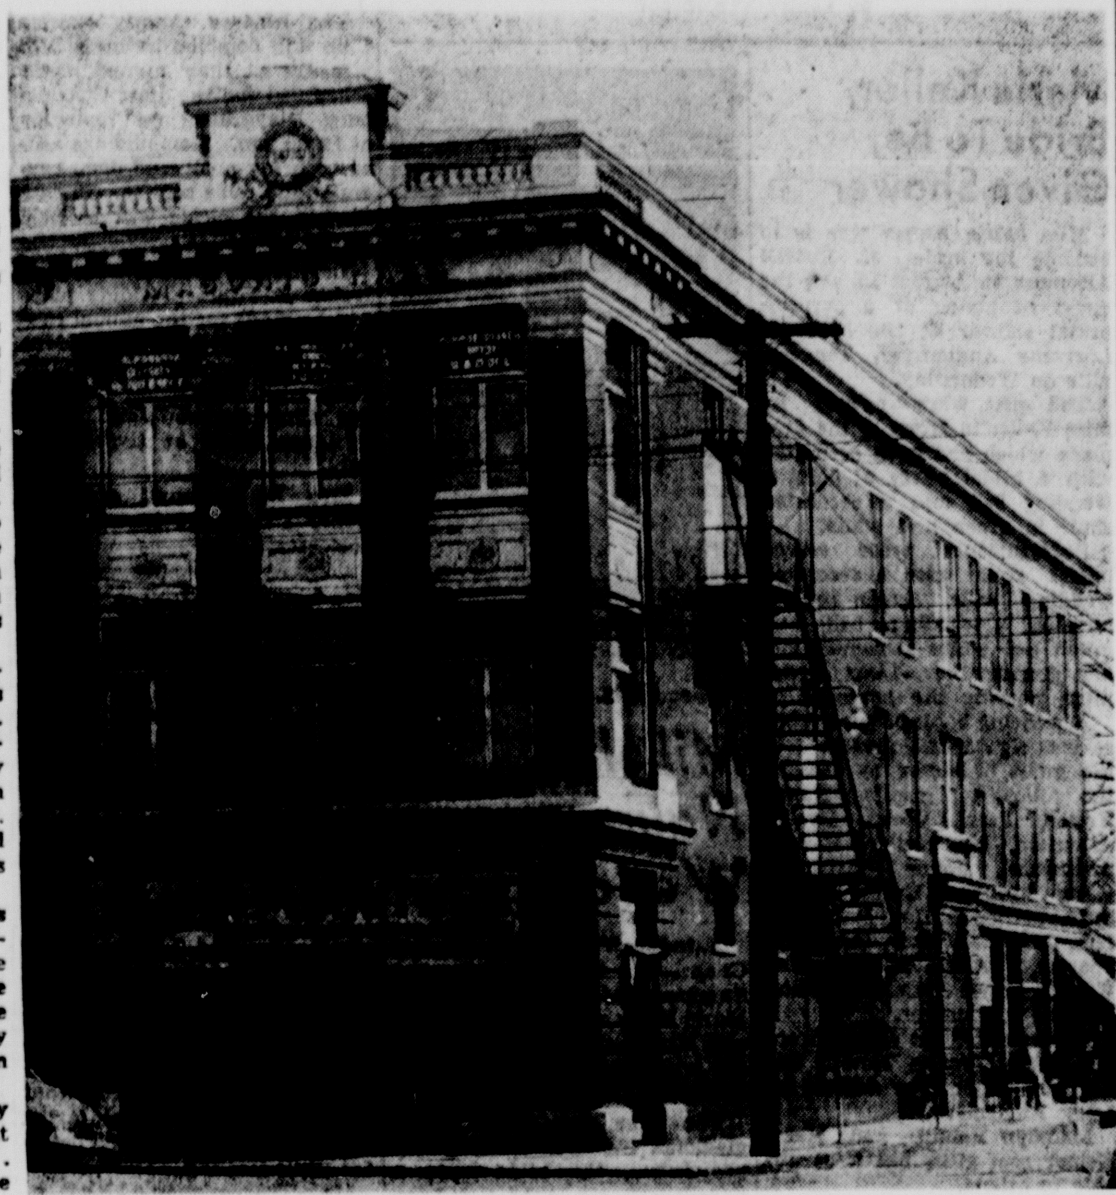

It does, however, show the Allegheny National Forest, the coal miner at work in the Anthracite region of our state, the Wayne Blockhouse at Erie, the pouring of molten steel at Pittsburgh, Independence Hall in Philadelphia, a log hut at Valley Forge, and old cannon from Gettysburg.

Hand painted, this Nasco product is chip proof and alcohol resistant — and has an opening through which it may be hung upon the wall when not in use. On the back are some facts about the Keystone State — making it an excellent and practical 1.98 souvenir for vacationists.

We might also mention having another type of Pennsylvania tray, also hand painted. The state is shown in outline against a cream background with gold scroll edge. As a further brightening touch there is a colorful painting of the mountain laurel which is our state flower. I can't decide which I prefer. ALSO NEW AT WYCKOFF'S are charming Madonna planters priced at 1.50 and 1.98 depending upon size; and round tiles set on little handled and footed brass racks. Made in America, these come in several patterns, but to my way of thinking the richest-looking are of Grecian figures traced in gold. There are two styles of very graceful feminine musicians. Goddesses, of course! . . . New in our accessories department on the main floor are handsome skirts from Holland in fuzzy woolen fabrics and heavy hand-loomed weaves with interesting patterns. One of the latter, in red, black and white looks almost American Indian in motif, and has a saucy fringe at the bottom. These skirts, including some from Western Germany, range in price from 16.50 to 25.00. Skirt lengths from Guatemala (2 to 3 lengths to a skirt design) are priced at 10.50 and 15.00 . . . For the men we have attractive larlat ties with fraternal emblems, in our Men's Shop. There are of course, an appealing array of novelties at only 15c . . . For the homemaker we have those thirsty Terry dish towels in our main aisle. Several humorous patterns among them, at 29c each . . . and for your sweet tooth, we have delectable boxes of attractively wrapped imported Swiss chocolate at 2.95.

In closing, just one question that's real food for thought: What CAN'T you find at WYCKOFF'S?

Leslie Hay Agent For Kitchen Aid

"MY KITCHENAID Dishwasher is a dream come to life!"... just think of it! No more greasy dishes; no more tedious toasting; and my dishes and silverware, yes, even pots 'n pans are cleaner and brighter.

Many a housewife is finding that KitchenAid is the finest and most efficient dishwasher on the market today... there's a reason. Into the revolutionary new Kitchen Aid Home Dishwasher has gone more than a half-century of know-how gained by Hobart, the world's oldest and largest maker of commercial dishwashing, food and kitchen machines, in serving America's hotels, clubs, restaurants and institutions.

Let's "follow" a load of your dishes through the Kitchen Aid: 1. Dishes are washed with "powered water" 2 1/3 gallon of water are circulated at a rate of 45 gal. per minute. This washing action "scrubs" table ware clean.

2. Rinsings with fresh hot water, power-pressured over your dishes from a revolving arm assuring complete rinse coverage.

3. Dried with circulated hot air. Forced over and around into each crevice, the heat is completely circulated by a separate power fan.

Total water used 9 1/3 gallons... and are they clean! They fairly sparkle, with nary a water spot.

Many a housewife has said "but I heard that dishwashers just don't get your dishes clean." Don't you believe it! Stop in and get the complete story on KitchenAid from Leslie W. Hay next to the high school in Canadensis. He'll show you the way to easier living with a dishwasher.

New Paint Miracle At Fetherman's

GETTING TIRED of looking at those old pieces of furniture? Don't throw them out! Fetherman's Paint Store 706 Main St. in Stroudsburg has a product that will make them like new again.

The new product, which was formerly an exclusive process of contractors and professional painters, is called Multakolor.

The finished product is just what the name implies. It gives a multi-colored surface—in any color of your choice—which looks just like patterns you've seen on inlaid linoleum or plastic countertops.

Easy To Apply. Multakolor covers any surface—wood, plastic, sheetrock, furniture, toys, home decorations. And it's easy to apply:

Any amateur can apply Multakolor and achieve a professional look, Fetherman's point out. "It adds new beauty to anything you paint. One coat does the trick—covers raw, unfinished edges, wood or metal imperfections and dries in 15 minutes."

A MUSICAL version of "The Devil and Daniel Webster," Stephen Vincent Benet's humorous story, will be a 90-minute special on CBS' "Playhouse 90" this fall. . . . Phil Silvers has been signed to star in four hour-long specials on CBS during the 1959-60 season, the first to be presented Saturday, Oct. 17.

When "The Lineup" expands to a full hour next season, a new two-man team of young detectives will join the series. Tom Tully has requested his release as a regular on the series, but Warner Anderson will continue as Lt. Ben Guthrie. . . . Lee Aaker and Jim L. Brown, co-stars of "The Adventures of Rin Tin Tin," are featured in the new Walt Disney story, "Moochie of the Little League," currently in production.

Inger Stevens and Philip Reed co-star on "If You Had a Million" at 7 tonight on ch. 3 and 4. Miss Stevens portraying a shy switchboard operator who receives a million dollar gift and then is mistaken for the wife of a young businessman. . . . Will Hutchins stars as Tom "Sugarfoot" Brewster at 7:30 p.m. on ch. 6 and 7, and tangles with international bandits who plan to hold up a train and steal a fortune in diamonds.

Dean Fredericks, as Lt. Col. "Steve Canyon," assumes command of the experimental mission, involving a huge KB-50 fueling ship and three interceptor fighters, on ch. 3 and 4 at 8 p.m. . . . Special guest star Jack Withers answers Torey Peck's want ad for a babysitting job on "Peck's Bad Girl," the comedy series starring Patty McCormack, Wendell Corey and Marsha Hunt, at 9 p.m. on ch. 2 and 10.

Ray Milland stars on "Spotlight Playhouse" at 9:30 p.m. on ch. 2 and 10 as a respectable man who is arrested after he inadvertently picks up the wrong purse for his wife following a party. . . . "The David Niven Show" at 9:30 p.m. on ch. 3 and 4 stars Frank Lovejoy as a dedicated district attorney who is confronted with evidence that he may have sent an innocent man to the gas chamber.

Sports
Baseball 8 p.m. ch. 11—Yankees vs. Cleveland; baseball 8:15 p.m. ch. 6—Phillies vs. Pittsburgh; wrestling 9 p.m. ch. 5; harness races 9:30 p.m. ch. 9.

Mrs. Kenneth Roeder called a work-night for Monday to clean up Worthington Hall for the coming country fair to be held there Saturday, starting at 5 p.m. Enough workers turned out to clean the main floor and set up the booths. The decorating to be set in the theme of circus time will be done by Mrs. Sterling Walter.

Four Bodies In Plane

HANNA, Utah (AP)—A light, single-engine plane containing four bodies was found wrecked near a logging road in western Utah's Uinta Mountains Sunday. The Utah Highway Patrol said the bodies apparently were those of three adults and one child. They were badly burned and immediate identification was impossible, officers reported.

State Places Legal Notice On Accounts

ATTENTION is called to the escheat notice appearing on the classified advertising pages of The Daily Record today. It is a legal notice placed by the State Department of Revenue to notify a number of people or their legal representatives to activate their deposit accounts and claim other items from the bank or county officers.

Later Claim
Otherwise, the accounts will be turned over to the Commonwealth to be held for a later claim.

The notice lists the names of a number of area residents and the amounts of their accounts.

Production On Farms To Drop

HARRISBURG (AP)—Production of many of Pennsylvania's farm crops will be lower this year, the State Agriculture Department said Sunday.

Heading the list of crops expected to produce lower yields are barley, down 50 percent; rye, down 29 percent; corn, 19 percent; wheat, 16 percent; late summer potatoes, 12 percent; clover-timothy hay, 2 percent, and alfalfa hay, 1 percent.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

For Tuesday, July 21, 1959
Aries (March 21 to April 20)—All work and no play may seem your lot today. But, with all business and no relaxation, you can become stale. Take time out for a rest and you can double results on remaining work.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus)—Do not see or work against your better judgment, or stay far from the middle of the road. Stars advocate caution in financial matters, buying, business transactions. Don't be lured by slow-moving projects.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini)—A good performance is needed to put over good ideas. Little extra thought and effort will certainly pay in the end. Heart interests favored.

June 22 to July 21 (Cancer)—Move steadily forward under generous stars. Be patient, each situation you can detect mistakes, possible obstacles. Close relations with superiors, family, could prove helpful. Avoid "moods."

July 22 to August 23 (Leo)—You will require all the alertness you can muster to hold your own today. Confidence will also be needed to combat opposition. If you can't finish all you start, don't worry. Best do the best you can.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo)—The more you concentrate, the more you will achieve, and the better will be your results. Avoid needless detours; use that nimble mind of yours.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Do you find yourself thinking of the answer before the other fellow's sentence is finished? That could be showing too much assurance. Be cooperative; help others in their aims. Capitalize on all talents.

October 24 to November 23 (Scorpio)

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 4, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Bartzen Retains National Clay Court Tennis Title

By Charles Chamberlain
CHICAGO (AP)—Bernard (Tut) Bartzen, 31-year-old southpaw from Dallas, Monday retained his National Clay Court tennis crown by blasting out Whitney Reed, Alameda, Calif., 6-0, 8-6, 7-5.

The victory was the third in this tournament for the No. 3 seeded Bartzen. He also won in 1954.

Fourth seeded Sally Moore of Bakersfield, Calif., 19-year-old sophomore at Occidental College, took the women's title by defeating Sandra Reynolds, 19-year-old African beauty, 6-2, 2-6, 6-3.

Lost Games
The 26-year-old Reed, recently crowned NCAA champ from San Jose State, lost the first nine games to the nimble Bartzen, including the 6-0 whitewash in the first set.

In the second set, Reed, began rushing the net drawing even at 5-5 and going ahead 6-5.

This is the only time Reed, who found it nearly impossible to get the ball past Bartzen, was ahead in the match. He lost the next three games of the second set.

Came From Behind
Reed battled from behind in the third set to deadlock it at 5-5, but Bartzen's remarkable retrieving broke him down as he swept the last two games to close out the match.

Miss Reynolds teamed up with her South African chum, Rene Schuurman, to win the women's doubles championship. They defeated Janet Hopps of Seattle and Joanne Arthoff St. Paul, 4-6, 6-0, 6-3.

Long Match
In a match that lasted an hour and 45 minutes, Bartzen and Grant Golden of Evanston, Ill., won the men's doubles championship by defeating teenagers R. Dennis Ralston, Bakersfield, Calif., and William Bond, La Jolla, Calif., 12-10, 6-2, 6-4.

Bartzen had a busy day, considering he played the singles finals and doubles semifinals, he finished up with a total of 99 games for the day.

Empire State Clubs Ready For Kaye Golf

Cards Tie Cubs; Beat Chicago 2-0

TAMMONT — Crestmont Country Club of the Metropolitan District and three upper New York State clubs, Ryewood Country Club, Rye; Happy Acres Country Club, Webster; and Midvale Golf and Country Club, Penfield, were among the first to receive and accept entries in the Danny Kaye Inaugural Invitation team championship golf tournament to be played at Tammont-In-The-Poconos here Thursday, August 27.

Bud Geoghegan, pro., will head the four-man pro-amateur team from Crestmont in the 18-hole team low gross better ball of foursome event.

Fred Annon, Ryewood Country Club pro; Bob Hill, pro at Happy Acres and Mike Zambito, Midvale pro., will lead teams from their clubs into action.

PGA Champs
Five former Pennsylvania State P. G. A. champions, all have accepted entries. They include Stan Dudas, North Hills Country Club, North Hills, Pennsylvania; Bud Lewis, Manufacturers Country Club, Oreland, Pennsylvania; Clarence Ehresmann, Ashbourne Country Club, Cheltenham, Pennsylvania; Henry Williams, Jr., Berkleigh Country Club, Fleetwood, Pennsylvania, and John Serafini, Fox Hill Country Club, West Pittston, Pennsylvania.

With invitations going out to other New York, Long Island and New Jersey clubs in the Metropolitan District the tournament can well develop into a battle between Metropolitan and Pennsylvania teams, although several South Jersey and Delaware clubs are among the entries.

Because of the intense interest developing in the Danny Kaye tournament, tournament director, Mike Devitt, will limit the field to the first 45 clubs that accept invitations.

A handsome sterling silver Danny Kaye Golf Trophy has been designed for the tournament with the winning team and runner-up in the low gross and first and second low net teams to be awarded replicas. A silver trophy and cash prizes will be awarded to the pros with the low individual gross scores.

Faith In Dodgers Is Shown
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Johnny Davis, a Hollywood restaurant owner, is a man who has faith in the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Monday he sent a $1,000 check to the baseball club as a deposit on 50 tickets for every Dodger World Series game in the Los Angeles Coliseum this fall.

The team's front office said it is sending the check back to Johnny with thanks.

The Dodgers, 2½ games behind the pace setting San Francisco Giants in the National League standings, aren't authorized to accept World Series ticket orders.

Dodgers Cut Giants Lead; Winners 3-2

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Second baseman Charlie Neal hit Johnny Antonelli's first pitch in the ninth inning for a 365-foot homer Monday to give the Los Angeles Dodgers a 3-2 victory over San Francisco.

The loss cut the Giants National League lead to 1½ games. Antonelli pitched brilliantly after a first-inning homer by Gil Hodges got the Dodgers away to a 2-0 lead. He retired 21 batters in order before Neal's window-blown lift.

Don Drysdale settled down after a rough second inning and struck out seven Giants. He boosted his total as the league's current strikeout king to 154, the highest of his career.

The teams battled to a 2-2 tie through eight innings as Antonelli and Drysdale settled down to a pitching duel after early inning troubles.

Hodges' 18th home run, a 380-foot drive with the walked Junior Gilliam on base, put the Dodgers in front 2-0 in the first inning.

The Giants tied it up in the second on singles by Daryl Spencer, Jackie Brandt and Ed Bressoud, plus shortstop Don Zimmer's error and Jim Davenport's ground-er.

Gomes Takes Knockdowns To Win Bout

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP) — Durable Harold Gomes survived four knockdowns to punch out a unanimous 15 round decision over Paul Jorgenson and win the vacated world junior lightweight championship Monday night.

Gomes weighed 127½, Jorgenson 129½.

In a wild battle which found both exhausted contestants draped over the ropes at the finish, the 25-year-old Providence City Sanitation Dept. employee came back from dreamland's door after taking three 8 counts in the 11th round.

Gomes went down again in the 15th from a Jorgenson right hand but turned on his Port Arthur, Texas, adversary and gave him a terrific pounding before the rope-crashing finish.

Referee Sharkey Buonanno scored the fight 71-63 for Gomes on the five-point-per-round scoring system. Judges Dick Cotter and Eddie Jansen had it 70-63 and 70-66 respectively for the first title since Sandy Saddler in 1949.

Buonanno took away the fifth and seventh rounds from Jorgenson for low blows but Gomes had won them on all cards anyway.

Hobbie went the distance, suffering his eighth loss 10-0 victories.

Arnovich Dies
SUPERIOR, Wis. (AP) — Morrie Arnovich, former major league outfielder, died at his home Monday after suffering an apparent heart attack.

Arnovich, 49, saw service with the Phillies, Reds and Giants during his nine years in the National League, and was a member of the championship Cincinnati team of 1940.

Lev Spencer, although he gave up a two run homer to Fred Candusen in the first, was the winner. The All Stars, managed by Sheriff Robinson, picked up four runs in the third off starter and loser John Dewald.

Key blow in the All Stars' four run third was a two run homer by Albany's Bill Kern. It broke a 2-2 tie and sent the All Stars on their way.

Tri-County Archery Meeting Held At Bowmanstown

ELEVEN BOWMEN of the Pocono Archery Association made their appearance on the shooting line at the Tri-County Conference Shoot at Bowmanstown, Sunday, July 19. This was the smallest local group attending any tournament shoot this season, and it may be good reason why Bowmanstown was able to widen their leading margin by another 20 points.

Attending this tournament shoot were 57 archers. The weather was at optimum for shooting records, but only one was reported among the local bowmen. Dick James captured the high in the Archers class with a score of 206, which advances him to the Bowman's class.

Woody Butz, of Saylorsburg, shot perfect scores on three targets, which ranged over 35 yards, and was awarded the only 20-pin of the day.

Harry Shannon, one of the local tournament shooters who has been working hard all season to help his fellow bowmen in their efforts to top the field, finally captured a place in the Archers class and earned 5 Conference points.

The following score were reported:

Expert AA
1. Rudy Bonser, Blue Ridge, 341.

Expert A
1. Paul Dally, Pocono, 383.
2. Woody Butz, Blue Ridge, 320.

3. Jack LaBar, Pocono, 320.
(Woody Butz and Jack LaBar tied for second place. Butz captured second place honors in a 3-target shoot-off.)

Expert B
1. Robert Eckert, Bowmanstown, 295.
2. Leon Snyder, Bowmanstown, 286.

3. Donald Hughes, Slatington, 262.

Bowman
1. Danton Holtzer, Bowmanstown, 299.
2. Clarence Patterson, Bowmanstown, 256.

3. Arlan Goodhile, Bowmanstown, 245.

Archer
1. Richard James, Pocono, 206.
2. Forrest Holtzer, Bowmanstown, 192.

3. Harry Shannon, Pocono, 169.

Next Conference Shoot on schedule will be held on Sunday, August 2, at the Blue Ridge Bowman's Field Range at Saylorsburg.

Reds Ignore Score System For Meet

LONDON (AP) — Moscow radio Monday ignored the separate meet system of scoring used in Sunday's United States-Russia men's and women's track meets and hailed the result as a "major and deserved victory" for the Soviet Union.

The men's and women's events were scored separately in Philadelphia, not combined as the Russians chose to do last year over American protests.

The American men won Sunday 127-108 and the Russian women won 67-40. The combined scores were 175 for Russia and 167 for the U. S.

The situation was similar to that in Moscow last year when the Russians claimed a 172-170 victory on a 63-44 margin for their women and a 126-109 triumph for the U. S. men.

Donkey Game Set
DONKEY BASEBALL for the benefit of the Bushkill Baseball Team will be played July 21, at 8:30 p.m. at the Bushkill field at Hiram's Restaurant.

The game will be between the Bushkill team and the summer resort guests.

Maris Cutting Kuenn's Batting Lead By Spurt

By Ben Olan
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Roger Maris of Kansas City, who missed a month of the season because of an appendectomy, helped cut Harvey Kuenn's American League batting lead to five points with a spurt that carried him from sixth place into a tie for the runner-up position.

Maris gained 11 points last week with 3 hits in 32 tries and showed a .333 average through Sunday's games. He was deadlocked for second place with Baltimore's Gene Woodling, who advanced from the No. 5 spot.

Operated On
Maris was operated on May 22 and did not return to the Athletics' lineup until June 22. He was hitting .328 when sidelined.

Kuenn dropped 14 points to .338. Nellie Fox of the Chicago White Sox and Al Kaline of Detroit are tied for fourth place at .330. Fox leads the league in hits with 123.

Margin Dwindles
In the National League, the healthy margin held by Hank Aaron of Milwaukee has dwindled. The Braves' slugger lost five more points last week and his percentage tailed off to .360. Meanwhile, Bill White of St. Louis moved up one notch to second place with a nine-point gain to .349.

Joe Cunningham of St. Louis zoomed from seventh place to third. He gained 16 points to .337.

Drives in Ten
Frank Robinson of Cincinnati drove in 10 runs to take over the National League RBI lead from Chicago's Ernie Banks. Robinson has 86 runs batted in and Banks 85.

Ed Mathews of Milwaukee continues to lead the NL in homers with 29. Banks had one, giving him 25.

Harmon Killebrew of Washington is the American League leader in homers with 32 and RBI with 80.

Braves Beat Boston 7-3 In Exhibition

BOSTON (AP) — The Milwaukee Braves capitalized on errors to defeat the Boston Red Sox 7-3 Monday night, in an exhibition game called after five innings because of rain.

The big blow in the Braves' triumphant return to this city was a three-run homer by Del Crandall which broke a scoreless deadlock in the fourth inning.

Milwaukee took a 7-0 lead in the fifth as the result of two Boston errors.

With rain falling heavily in the bottom of the fifth the Red Sox capped Joey Jay for three runs, two of them unearned.

Jack Harshman hurled the five innings for Boston, while Milwaukee used Warren Spahn and Bob Buhl for an inning apiece. Jay wound up the winner as he hurled the final three innings, striking out six.

Roseburg Wins Utah Open With 270

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Bob Roseburg of Palo Alto, Calif., sank an eight-foot birdie putt on the last hole Monday and won the $7,500 Utah Open Golf Tournament by one stroke.

Roseburg had a 72-hole total of 275, 13 strokes below par. He edged Ed (Porky) Oliver of Denver, Colo., who wound up with a 276 after a final round of 69.

Roseburg won $1,500 first prize money. His final round score was 69, too. He had a one-stroke lead going into the final 18 holes.

National Open Champion Billy Casper of Chula Vista, Calif., shot the best round of the day — 66. This moved him into third place with a 72-hole total of 277.

Wall, Palmer To Meet In Exhibition

HARRISBURG (AP) — Art Wall Jr., of Pocono Manor, and Arnold Palmer, of Latrobe, two of professional golf's greats, will meet in an 18-hole exhibition match Saturday at the nearby West Shore Country Club.

Also appearing in the match will be Dick Sleichter, 1958 Pennsylvania Open champion from Gettysburg, and frequent golfing partner of President Eisenhower, and host pro, Ed Tabor. Wall and Palmer will play for $1,600, the winner taking $900, the loser $700.

Wall, the 1959 Masters champion is golf's leading money winner with better than $40,000 banked. Palmer is sixth leading money winner with some $22,000.

Postpone King's Team Play Until Wednesday, July 29

THE APPEARANCE of the King and His Court, sensational four-man softball team, scheduled for 8 p. m. last night at the East Stroudsburg High field, has been postponed until July 29.

Despite conflicting radio reports, the cancellation was made at the last minute to insure against a possible playing condition despite the rain.

Conflicting playing dates elsewhere made it impossible for the team to appear here tonight.

Officials of the Varsity "E" Club made the announcement last night shortly before the game, against the Twin City TV nine, was set to get under way.

Rain Makes Only Two Games Available In Little League

ONLY TWO BOX SCORES were available last night since almost all games scheduled for yesterday were called because of the rain.

In Friday's game at Effort, behind in the last of the sixth inning to score two runs and beat the Wind Gap Legion team 3-2.

Mackes, the Effort pitcher, won his own ball game by hitting a double to left center to drive in the tying and winning runs.

In losing the game, Kline gave up only five hits while striking out 11 men.

Dale Eckman started for the winners and gave up four hits, allowing two runs, one of which was unearned.

In West End Little League action, Kunkletown romped over the Saylors Lake team by a 20-5 score.

B. Lloyd hit a homer and a double to lead the winners in the hitting for the day.

The winning pitcher was T. Kleintop who struck out two and walked two. The loser was Westcott who struck out one and walked four.

Break World Marks In Swim Meet

TOKYO (AP)—Two world records were bettered and Australian Olympic champion Murray Rose won the fastest 1,500-meter race of his career Monday to steal the opening-night show of the United States-Japan aquatic meet.

Mike Troy, a 19-year-old from Indianapolis, Ind., stroked the 200-meter butterfly in 2:17.2, bettering the International Swimming Federation's 2:19 world standard for the second time this summer.

To 8,000 cheering Japanese, the co-star with Rose of the thrilling evening was 20-year-old Tsuyoshi Yamamaka. He bettered his own 2:03 world record by winning the 200-meter free style in 2:02.3, and scarcely two hours later was second in the grueling 1,500, half a body length behind the blond Australian.

Japan holds a 14-9 lead with two days remaining in this fifth meet of the two swimming powers since 1931.

Rose and Olympic runnerup Yamamaka turned in the best times of their careers in the 1,500. Setting both new American and Japanese records, their times have been bettered only by Australian Jon Konrads' 17:28.7 world mark.

Rose, a student at the University of Southern California, won in 17:46.5. Yamamaka was timed in 17:47.5, and Somers in 17:48.9.

Missionary Speaks During Service

SHAWNEE-ON-DELAWARE
— Rev. Robert M. Bradburn, missionary to Thailand, was introduced as the speaker of the morning to the congregation of the Shawnee Presbyterian Church on Sunday.

It was like coming home. Rev. Bradburn had served as pastor of the local congregation for three years, and in 1953 completed his ministry at the Shawnee Church in order to accept a call as a fraternal missionary under the Board of Ecumenical Mission and Relations (then the Board of Foreign Missions) of the Presbyterian Church in the United States.

Large Attendance
Approximately 250 people attended the Sunday morning worship services at the Middle Smithfield and Shawnee Presbyterian Churches in order to hear of the missionary endeavors of the Bradburns in Thailand.

About 150 members and friends of the two churches met with the Bradburns at night at which time a colored motion picture of their work in Thailand was presented.

A "welcome home reception" was then tendered the Bradburn family in the Parish House of the Shawnee Church.

Taking his place behind the colonial pulpit of the church he once served, Bradburn began his message of the morning. "I could begin by reminding this morning, but that can wait. I am here this morning to talk to you about Thailand."

He then went on to tell how he has worked along with the Church of Christ in Thailand "in a teaching, healing, and preaching ministry" during a four and one half year period.

Rev. Bradburn, along with a small group of like-minded people, has been responsible for setting up a program for the care, treatment, and rehabilitation of hundreds of Thai people afflicted with the dread disease leprosy.

Children's Home
A Children's Home has also been established for the care of well children born of leper parents.

Rev. and Mrs. Bradburn and their three children, Pamela, Paul, and Robin will reside at the Sheble cottage at Shawnee-on-Delaware during their five week visit in the area.

Mr. Bradburn will speak at several of the other local churches in the area during the next few weeks. The Bradburns plan to leave for a second term of service in Thailand sometime late in August.
